

Depth Is More Important Than Speed!

Many mathematicians work slowly because they think deeply rather than quickly. Award-winning mathematician Laurent Schwartz talked about feeling stupid when he was in school because he was a slow thinker. When you work on maths go for depth over speed!